Maintain Good Board-Manager Relations

The differing responsibilities of the board of directors and the manager must be clearly understood and carried out.

- Directors represent members and are legally responsible for the performance & conduct of the cooperative. Most corporate powers are vested in its directors & outlined in the bylaws, State, and Federal legal statutes. Three major responsibilities are 1) to set policies 2) employ & evaluate the general manager's ability to carry them out 3) provide adequate financing for the cooperative.

- Board's specific management responsibilities include functioning as trustees for the members in safeguarding their assets in the cooperative; setting goals, objectives, & general policies; adopting long-term strategic plans; employing a competent manager & evaluating performance; preserving the cooperative character of the organization; establishing an accurate accounting system; adopting an annual operating budget; appointing an outside firm to perform an annual audit; controlling the total operation; & authorizing distribution of cooperative net earnings and redemption of members' equities.

- Board delegates responsibility to a hired general manager or chief executive officer who hires or discharges employees, including department heads, who with the manager comprises the hired management staff or team.

- Hired management are responsible for managing or directing daily business activities; carrying out policies set by the board; setting goals & making short-term plans; employing, training, & discharging employees; organizing & coordinating internal activities in compliance with cooperative goals, objectives, & board policies; keeping complete accounts & records & developing an annual operating budget; & providing the board with periodic reports.

Use of policy and procedure manuals & job descriptions along with frank discussions of questions when they arise can help maintain an understanding of the division of responsibility.
